Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 1751

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 18-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b/e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Tsuchida et al. (JP Pub. 2000-082329 hereinafter, "Tsuchida") or Goto et al. (U.S Pat. 6,794,480 hereinafter, "Goto").

Regarding claims 18-21, Tsuchida discloses a proton conductive highpolymer substance formed from a polymer having sulfate radical or sulfuric acid radical in each molecule and a polymer given by the general formula $-(R1-X)_n-$, wherein R1 contain carbon, X is N, O, or S and n is two or more integers (Abstract and [0014-0016]).

Tsuchida also discloses the polymer of sulfate radical or sulfuric acid radical is characterized by high ion dissociative and may contain a hydroxyl group [0017]. The proton conductive substance may further comprises N'-dimethylformamide solvent [0020]. The prior art discloses the proton conductivity is difficult to acquire if the content of sulfonic acid is less than five [0024]. Therefore, the weight ratio of polymer of sulfate radical or sulfuric acid radical to general formula is set from 90/10 to 20/80 [0024]. .

Regarding claims 18-21, Goto discloses a proton-conductive membrane comprises of sulfonic-acid group-containing co-polymer (Col. 16, lines 1-3). The proton-conductive membrane further comprises an inorganic acid such as sulfonic acid and phosphoric acid and organic acid such as carboxylic acid with a proper amount of water (Col. 16, lines 3-7). Goto further discloses the sulfonic-acid group-containing co-polymer may be dissolved in a solvent such as dimethylformamide (col. 16, lines 8-16). The reference specifically or inherently meets each of the claimed limitations. The reference is anticipatory.

In the alternative that the above disclosure is insufficient to anticipate the above listed claims, it would have nonetheless been obvious to the skilled artisan to produce the claimed composition, a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention would have had a reasonable expectation of success, because such a proton-conductor composition contains sulfonic acid-containing co-polymer and dimethylformamide solvent is expressly suggested by the Goto disclosure and therefore is an obvious formulation
